COOPER LEGACY BOOKS

Creating Stories kids love and parents can trust.

OUR STORY

From Family Frustration

To Family Mission

As parents, we found ourselves searching for books that were both entertaining and aligned with our family's values.

Too often we discovered stories that entertained children while subtly promoting messages that didn't reflect the values we wanted to teach at home.

Instead of complaining, we decided to create something different.

Cooper Legacy Books was founded by educator and entrepreneur Shemeca Cooper alongside her two children, Nathaniel Jr. and Zoe. Together they write comic-style adventures that blend humor, exciting storytelling, and biblical principles into stories children genuinely enjoy reading.

OUR MISSION IN ONE SENTENCE

We help parents marry entertainment with values by creating wholesome stories children love and parents can trust.

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

Want to feature our family? Here are questions our audiences love. Use them as written or make them your own.

For Shemeca

1. What was the moment you stopped searching for the right books and decided to write them yourselves?
2. Your tagline is "stories kids love and parents can trust." What does that actually look like when you're writing a scene?
3. You're a homeschooling mother, an educator, and an entrepreneur. How does the classroom show up in the books?
4. What happens at your kitchen table when a joke doesn't land with your two toughest critics, your co-authors?

For Nathaniel Jr. and Zoe

1. Nathaniel, you helped develop the entire Alex the Great storyline. Which part of Alex is most like you?
2. Zoe, you help bring the characters and jokes to life. What's the funniest scene you've worked on?
3. What do your friends say when they find out you're a published authors?
4. Honest answer: what's the hardest part about writing a book with your mom?

For the whole family

1. Why did you choose the comic format?
2. What do you want a kid who says "I hate reading" to feel when they pick up one of your books?
3. What's next for Cooper Legacy Books?.

AUTHOR BIOS

Shemeca Cooper (approx. 50 words)

Shemeca Cooper is the founder and CEO of Cooper Legacy Books, where she writes comic-style children's books with her two children, Nathaniel Jr. and Zoe. An educator and homeschooling mother, she creates stories that blend humor and life lessons for readers ages 8 to 13. The family is based in Maryland.

Shemeca Cooper (approx. 150 words)

Shemeca Cooper is the founder and CEO of Cooper Legacy Books and co-author of Alex the Great and The Amazing Adventures of Zoe & Chloe and Their Guardian Angel, comic-style books that blend humor, life lessons, and biblical values for readers ages 8 to 13.

The company started with a frustration most parents will recognize. Searching for books that were both entertaining and aligned with her family's values, Shemeca kept finding stories that entertained kids while quietly promoting messages she didn't want to teach at home. Instead of complaining, she and her two children, Nathaniel Jr. and Zoe, decided to write something different.

An educator, entrepreneur, and homeschooling mother, Shemeca has been featured in Voyage Maryland, and the family regularly appears at community events including Books in Bloom and PlayPalooza. She is available for podcast interviews, school and church visits, and speaking engagements.

Shemeca Cooper (approx. 300 words)

Shemeca Cooper is the founder and CEO of Cooper Legacy Books, a family-run publishing company creating comic-style children's books that blend humor, life lessons, and biblical values for readers ages 8 to 13. She co-writes every title with her two children, Nathaniel Cooper Jr. and Zoe Cooper, making Cooper Legacy Books one of the rare publishers where the target audience is also in the writers' room.

The company was born from a familiar parenting frustration. As a homeschooling mother and educator, Shemeca went looking for books that were both genuinely entertaining and aligned with her family's values. Too often she found stories that entertained children while subtly promoting messages that didn't reflect what she wanted to teach at home. Instead of complaining, the family decided to create something different.

The result is a growing catalog that includes Alex the Great, which follows Alex and his friends as they navigate middle school, friendships, sports, and growing up, and The Amazing Adventures of Zoe & Chloe and Their Guardian Angel, the story of two sisters learning to trust God through life's ups and downs. Both books use a comic format designed to engage even reluctant readers, and both are built to spark family conversations about honesty, courage, faith, perseverance, and character.

Shemeca and her children have been featured in Voyage Maryland and are regulars at community events including Books in Bloom and PlayPalooza, where kids routinely plant themselves at the booth and read on the spot. The family partners with schools, libraries, churches, homeschool communities, parenting podcasts, and family creators, and is available for interviews, live readings, and speaking engagements.

Nathaniel Cooper Jr.: Co-author (approx. 60 words)

Nathaniel Cooper Jr. is co-author of Alex the Great and helped develop the book's entire storyline, drawing on the world he knows best: middle school, sports, and friendship. When he isn't writing, he's a competitive swimmer with plans to become a pilot. He co-writes every Alex the Great title with his mother, Shemeca.

Zoe Cooper: Co-author (approx. 60 words)

Zoe Cooper is co-author at Cooper Legacy Books, where she brings the characters and jokes to life, including the sisters at the heart of The Amazing Adventures of Zoe & Chloe and Their Guardian Angel. A competitive gymnast who plans to become a veterinarian, she co-writes every title with her mother, Shemeca.
